USHCC Statement on the 2026 Midterm Elections

The United States Hispanic Chamber of Commerce (USHCC) congratulates the newly elected and returning leaders who will serve their communities in the 120th Congress. We also thank all those who stepped forward to seek public office and participate in our democratic process. Elections are an opportunity for Americans to make their voices heard, and that participation remains fundamental to our democracy.

We are especially proud to see Latino and Latina leaders across the country continue to step forward to serve. Their leadership reflects the growing voice of a community that is helping shape both our democracy and our economy. Today, the U.S. Latino economy is estimated at $5.1 trillion in GDP and, if measured independently, would rank as the fourth-largest economy in the world, underscoring the strength and influence of Hispanic Americans in our nation's economic future.

“No matter the outcome of an election or the party in office, our mission remains the same: to champion America’s Hispanic-owned businesses and ensure their voices are heard,” said Ramiro Cavazos, President & CEO of USHCC. “We congratulate those elected to serve and look forward to working with leaders on both sides of the aisle to strengthen our economy, expand opportunity and ensure Hispanic businesses continue to help drive America forward.”

USHCC's commitment to business advocacy and collaboration will continue at the 2027 USHCC Legislative Summit, March 8–10 in Washington, D.C., where Hispanic business leaders will engage directly with policymakers on how decisions made in Washington affect businesses, workers and communities across the country.
